Emmaus Christian Counseling Centre

Note: Many of these authors and works are good resources, but I do not totally agree with some of the authors statements about psychology an counseling, that science has nothing to offer mankind in relation to psychology and human brain. I think we can learn from the sciences as long as science does not leave God out of the equation. We do not teach nouthetic (Calvinistic) views, our method is in classical Christianity, but these resources can be of great help in counseling as along as the bible is the final truth in counseling.
